2018 Taiwan Economic and Business Cooperation Mission to Honduras, El Salvador and Guatemala

Taiwan has a long and steady relationship with Central America, and there are also Taiwanese companies investing in this region. In order to strengthen the economic and trade cooperation with Honduras, El Salvador and Guatemala, CIECA has organized the delegation “2018 Taiwan Economic and Business Cooperation Mission to Honduras, El Salvador and Guatemala” from July 14 to July 27, 2018. Honduras has actively participated in the economic integration of Central America in recent years, and the signing of economic free trade agreement makes the local market more open for exportation; The political stability in El Salvador and economic development toward the service industry make El Salvador to become the center of operation in Central America. Guatemala is close to the markets of Canada, the United States and Mexico, and is the largest economy in Central America. It has actively participated in the Sistema de la Integración Centroamericana (SICA) and the World Trade Organization (WTO), and has free trade agreements with Taiwan. Government have offered subsidy of airline tickets for all participating companies.
